Have a $5,000 hamburger! Happy heart attack! Merry Christmas! In certain places, poor rich avatars can go to an exclusive hamburger joint where they can rejoice in their superiority over the poor, and buy fancy hamburgers for $5,000 each. They can chew on the dead carcasses and celebrate, “as it was in the days of Noah.”

What is it like in the end of the world? “And knowledge shall be increased.” Daniel 12:4. Here’s an English teaching AI bot.

Merry Christmas

Dear SDA friends around the world,
Greetings in the holy name of Jesus.
Faith: The Bible verse says, “God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.” What will our kind Father use to accomplish it?

SECRET LIVES OF THE SUPER RICH

I tried a $5,000 hamburger, and it was absolutely worth it. Before I took my first bite of the FleurBurger 5000, I was one of those people who thought paying $5,000 for a hamburger was insane.

After all, a top-of-the-line burger from Shake Shack or In-N-Out costs less than $10 — and they don't get much better than that.

But then I found myself in the kitchen of Fleur, Chef Hubert Keller's restaurant at the Mandalay Bay in Las Vegas. I watched Keller quickly sear a patty of Wagyu beef ($100 a pound) and douse it over and over again with rich butter, sealing in the flavor and the juice [the blood and puss.]

Then I watched him slice and sear a few slabs of prime foie gras ($45 a pound), and combine the duck fat with more butter to sautee a mound of sliced black truffles ($1,500 a pound). After that, Keller carefully layered the three ingredients onto a freshly baked brioche bun.

The top ingredient (and the main reason for its price) was poured rather than cooked: A bottle of 1995 Petrus. The bottle, which can often sell for more than $5,000 in restaurants, comes with the burger as the perfect pair.

With wine in hand, I lifted the earthy, oozing Fleur burger to my mouth and took my first bite. And for the first time ever on "Secret Lives of the Super Rich," I was completely at a loss for words. My exact quote on camera, was, "Oh! Wow! Oh! Oh! [REDACTED]!"

The prophet of God cries out - "Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. Your riches are corrupted... Your gold and silver... shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days... Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth... as in a day of slaughter... Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord... Stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh." James 5:1-8.

"The antediluvians were slaves of Satan, led and controlled by him." 3BC 1090.

"The wickedness of men was open and daring [as it is now] justice was trampled in the dust, and the cries of the oppressed reached unto heaven.

"The world was in its infancy; yet iniquity had become so deep and widespread that God could no longer bear with it; and He said, 'I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth...' He would blot them from His creation... He would sweep away the beasts of the field... and would transform the fair earth into one vast scene of desolation and ruin.

"A hundred and twenty years before the Flood, the Lord by a holy angel declared to Noah His purpose, and directed him to build an ark. While building the ark he was to preach that God would bring a flood of water upon the earth to destroy the wicked..."

"Many at first appeared to receive the warning; yet they did not turn to God with true repentance. They were unwilling to renounce their sins... Some were deeply convicted, and would have heeded the words of warning; but there were so many to jest and ridicule, that they partook of the same spirit... It was not multitudes or majorities that were on the side of right. The world was arrayed against God's justice and His laws, and Noah was regarded as a fanatic... But Noah stood like a rock

Merry Christmas!

Hope: It looks like a giant scab on a bun.

Charity: What's a scab? What makes it so valuable?

Pastor Jan: You'll know in a minute.

Charity: The man on the right sells them. The man on the left gave him $5,000 for it, and he will eat it. See how happy they both are!

Faith: But the poor rich man hasn't eaten it yet! A heart attack or a stroke hasn't come.

Merry Christmas.

Hope: How can such an ignorant thing happen? Who could trick anyone into doing it?

Pastor Jan: We don't know about this man, but every day many pleasure seekers are crossing over the line and are controlled by demons after committing the unpardonable sin - "as it was in the days of Noah."

Dear A. Jan Marcussen,

I found your name on a book that I read entitled "National Sunday law." No book that I have ever read has touched me as this book has touched me. I have read a lot of religious books and most of them are full of lies. False teachers are interwoven in God's church. It is very hard to find something that is the pure truth. I am a man seeking the truth in the word of God. I am very impressed with your book and I can see that you hold vast knowledge of the truth of God. Now I am craving to know more!
Your brother in Christ, Charles Bacon

amid the tempest. Surrounded by popular contempt and ridicule, he distinguished himself by his holy integrity and unwavering faithfulness. A power attended his words, for it was the voice of God to man through His servant. Connection with God made him strong in the strength of infinite power, while for one hundred and twenty years his solemn voice fell upon the ears of that generation in regard to events, which, so far as human wisdom could judge, were impossible.

“As time passed on, with no apparent change in nature, men whose hearts had at times trembled with fear, began to be reassured. They reasoned, as many reason now, that nature is above the God of nature, and that her laws are so firmly established that God Himself could not change them... They manifested their contempt for the warning of God by doing just as they had done before the warning was given. They continued their festivities and their gluttonous feasts... [If you offered them an oozing $5,000 FleurBurger 5000, they would eat it.] They ate and drank, planted and builded... and went to greater lengths in wickedness...

“The period of their probation was about to expire. Noah had faithfully followed the instructions which he had received from God. The ark was finished in every part as the Lord had directed... And now the servant of God made his last solemn appeal to the people. With an agony of desire that words cannot express, he entreated them to seek a refuge while it might be found. Again they rejected his words, and raised their voices in jest and scoffing. Suddenly a silence fell upon the mocking throng. Beasts of every description, the fiercest as well as the most gentle, were seen coming from mountain and forest and quietly making their way toward the ark. A noise as of a rushing wind was heard, and lo, birds were flocking from all directions, their numbers darkening the heavens... Animals obeyed the command of God, while the men were disobedient... The world looked on in wonder, some in fear. Philosophers were called upon to account for the singular occurrence, but in vain. It was a mystery which they could not fathom. But men had become so hardened by their persistent rejection of light that even this scene produced but a momentary impression. As the doomed race beheld the sun shining in its glory, and the earth clad in almost Eden beauty, they banished their rising fears by boisterous merriment, and by their deeds of

Dear Sir,

I have just finished reading “National Sunday Law” for the second time. The first time I read it, I was in total shock. We have been deceived all our lives! Now I feel truly blessed! My children and I were raised as Roman Catholics. How could I have been so wrong? I break down and cry. I get angry at the papal leaders – but I’m getting over these feelings now, and I’m thankful to God that your book has come into our lives. I have thrown out anything relating to the Catholic Church. My daughter and I now keep God’s Sabbath on Saturday, the 7th day, and follow God’s health principles in the Bible which keep us from disease and premature death. Thank you!
Sincerely, Bonny B.

violence they seemed to invite upon themselves the visitation of the already awakened wrath of God.

“God commanded Noah, ‘Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before Me in this generation.’ Mercy had ceased its pleadings for the guilty race... [They were doomed to hell.] Noah and his household were within the ark, ‘and the Lord shut him in.’ A flash of dazzling light was seen, and a cloud of glory more vivid than the lightning descended from heaven and hovered before the entrance of the ark. The massive door, which it was impossible for those within to close, was slowly swung to its place by unseen hands. Noah was shut in, and the rejecters of God’s mercy were shut out. The seal of Heaven was on that door; God had shut it, and God alone could open it. So when Christ shall cease His intercession for guilty men, before His coming in the clouds of heaven, the door of mercy will be shut... Satan will have full control of those who have rejected mercy. They will endeavor to destroy God’s people; but as Noah was shut into the ark, so the righteous will be shielded by divine power.

“For seven days after Noah and his family entered the ark, there appeared no sign of the coming storm. It was a time of triumph to the world without. The apparent delay confirmed them in the belief that Noah’s message was a delusion, and that the Flood would never come...

Dear Pastor Jan,

We have been sending out NSL books to a city near where we live. A lady called after receiving the book, and was very excited. She said that she got her Bible out and is comparing everything in the NSL book with her Bible. She was exited and said, “Everything here is straight from the Bible!” She thanked me for sending the book and said that everyone in her area had also received one! E.S. Oregon

Dear Jan Marcussen,

I just finished your book “National Sunday Law.” I truly believe God sent you to save his people. I grew up in a Baptist church, but I stopped going because the people were acting like the devil. The pastor said that he worships on Sunday because Christ rose from the dead on that day. From reading your book I know now that he is ignorant about the Bible, because the Bible does not teach that. He’s expecting me at church on Sunday. I’m not going. I’m going to tell everyone what I’ve found in your book. My fiancée is with me all the way on my journey closer to God. I truly believe that God has sent you. I’m going to order more “National Sunday Law” books to pass out to all the churches in my area. From reading “National Sunday Law,” many people will finally open their eyes and wake up! I can’t wait until that glorious day when we will meet each other in heaven. May God be with you forever. John

They gathered in crowds about the ark, deriding its inmates with a daring violence which they had never ventured upon before. [If they could, the wicked would kill Noah's family and us too.]

"But upon the eighth day dark clouds overspread the heavens. There followed the muttering of thunder and the flash of lightning. Soon large drops of rain began to fall. The world had never witnessed anything like this, and the hearts of men were struck with fear. All were secretly inquiring, 'Can it be that Noah was in the right, and that the world is doomed to destruction?' Darker and darker grew the heavens, and faster came the falling rain. The beasts were roaming about in the wildest terror, and their discordant cries seemed to moan out their own destiny and the fate of man. Then 'the fountains of the great deep' were 'broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.' Water appeared to come from the clouds in mighty cataracts. Rivers broke away from their boundaries, and overflowed the valleys. Jets of water burst from the earth with indescribable force, throwing massive rocks hundreds of feet into the air, and these, in falling, buried themselves deep in the ground.

Dear Jan Marcussen,

I have been trying to convince myself that your book "National Sunday Law" is just another person's opinion. I took your book apart verse by verse to prove that you were wrong. All my life I have been a devout Catholic. I thought I knew it all. I compared your book with the Bible. After one year of studying and looking for faults in your book, I was not able to find any. I came to the conclusion that your book is truly inspired by the Holy word of God. I want to follow God's word as Christ meant it to be! I have made my decision to live my life for Jesus and not the Catholic church! I am studying the Bible so I can become a Seventh-day Adventist and be on the right path towards heaven. Please keep me in your prayers. Sincerely, Gil

"The people first beheld the destruction of the works of their own hands. Their splendid buildings, and the beautiful gardens and groves where they had placed their idols, were destroyed by lightning from heaven, and the ruins were scattered far and wide. The altars on which human sacrifices had been offered were torn down, and the worshipers were made to tremble at the power of the living God...

"As the violence of the storm increased, trees, buildings, rocks, and earth were hurled in every direction. The terror of man and beast was beyond description. Above the roar of the tempest was heard the wailing of a people that had despised the authority of God. Satan himself, who was compelled to remain in the midst of the warring elements, feared for his own existence. He had delighted to control so powerful a race, and desired them to live to practice their abominations and continue their rebellion against the Ruler of heaven. He now uttered imprecations against God, charging Him with injustice and cruelty. Many of the people, like Satan, blasphemed God, and had they been able, they would have torn Him from the throne of power. Others were frantic with fear, stretching their hands toward the ark and pleading for admittance. But their entreaties were in vain. Conscience was at last aroused to know that there is a God who ruleth in the heavens. They called upon Him earnestly, but His ear was not open to their cry. In that terrible hour they saw that the transgression of God's law had caused their ruin. Yet while, through fear of punishment, they acknowledged their sin, they felt no true contrition, no abhorrence of evil. They would have returned to their defiance of Heaven, had the judgment been removed.

["Each morning as the people found the rain still falling they looked at one another in despair, and each night they repeated the words 'Raining still!' Thus it was, morning and evening. [Each day the people went to work in the rain, ate supper, went to bed, got up, fixed their meals, went to a wedding, went to a funeral, had babies born, ran through the pouring rain, and one day, left their homes because of this -] The water entered the houses and drove the people to the temples... For forty days and forty nights the rain poured down. Everywhere could be seen human beings fleeing in search of a refuge. The time had come when they would have been only too glad to accept an invitation to enter the ark. Filled with anguish, they cried, 'Oh, for a place of safety!' Some shrieked to Noah, pleading for admission into the ark. But amid the furious blast of the tempest their voices were unheard." ST 4/10/01]

"Some in their desperation endeavored to break into the ark, but the firm-made structure withstood their efforts. Some clung to the ark until they were

Dear Sir,

I was a gang member but Jesus saved me out of it. I found myself so excited after reading the book "National Sunday law." I was really moved by it! I compared what the book says with the Bible, and I can see that it totally agrees with the word of God! From now on, by God's grace, I will be keeping God's Sabbath day holy. The book "National Sunday Law" is the most valuable piece of information that I have ever received! R.M. California borne away by the surging waters, or their hold was broken by collision with rocks and trees. The massive ark trembled in every fiber as it was beaten by the merciless winds and flung from billow to billow. The cries of the beasts within expressed their fear and pain. But amid the warring elements it continued to ride safely. Angels that excel in strength were commissioned to preserve it.

"The beasts, exposed to the tempest, rushed toward man, as though expecting help from him. Some of the people bound their children and themselves upon powerful animals, knowing that these were tenacious of life, and would climb to the highest points to escape the rising waters. Some fastened themselves to lofty trees on the summit of hills or mountains; but the trees were uprooted, and with their burden of living beings were hurled into

Dear Sir,

Your book "National Sunday Law" was left on the steps of my church. I thank you for the clear explanation to a lot of questions I've had for years. I must say - this book is "Dynamite!" I can see that the issue in this book is going to be the deciding factor for the two classes of people in the world. It needs to be read far and wide! There are many who need to be reached with this message! May God bless you! Don

Dear Sir,

Having read the book "National Sunday Law," a feeling came over me to have them sent to Congressmen, Senators, and every preacher in town that they might hear and know God's will. As God blesses me, I will get more of them to spread the word to all that will hear and read. May God bless us all and give us strength to stand! Jim. Colorado the seething billows. One spot after another that promised safety was abandoned. As the waters rose higher and higher, the people fled for refuge to the loftiest mountains. Often man and beast would struggle together for a foothold, until both were swept away.

“From the highest peaks men looked abroad upon a shoreless ocean. The solemn warnings of God’s servant no longer seemed a subject for ridicule and scorning. How those doomed sinners longed for the opportunities which they had slighted! How they pleaded for one hour’s probation, one more privilege of mercy, one call from the lips of Noah! But the sweet voice of mercy was no more to be heard by them. Love, no less than justice, demanded that God’s judgments should put a check on sin.

The avenging waters swept over the last retreat, and the despisers of God perished in the black depths.

Dear A. Jan Marcussen,

I have just finished reading your amazing book “National Sunday Law.” I’m stunned! In just one day this little book has given me an extraordinary challenge. I am Roman Catholic and attend mass on Sunday, yet, your book touches the deeper part of my heart. I’ll be ordering more copies to send to my family, friends, and parishioners at the Catholic church. We will carefully study the implications of what you have written. I believe that only God could have revealed this information in your book. Thank you for having the love of God in your heart to search for the truth, and for having the courage to share it. Sincerely, A.F.

“By the word of God... the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished: but the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.’ 2 Peter 3:5-7. Another storm is coming. The earth will again be swept by the desolating wrath of God, and sin and sinners will be destroyed.

“The sins that called for vengeance upon the antediluvian world exist today. The fear of God is banished from the hearts of men, and His law is treated with indifference and contempt. The intense worldliness of that generation is equaled by that of the generation now living...

obligation to curb their sensual desires, and they become the slaves of lust. Men are living for the pleasures of sense; for this world and this life alone. Extravagance pervades all circles of society. Integrity is sacrificed for luxury and display. They that make haste to be rich pervert justice and oppress the poor, and ‘slaves and souls of men’ are still bought and sold...

“As the time of their probation was closing, the antediluvians gave themselves up to exciting amusements and festivities [as they do now.] Those who possessed influence and power were bent on keeping the minds of the people engrossed with mirth and pleasure,

Dear Pastor Jan,

I cannot find words to tell you that Jesus is working miracles of conversions through the book “National Sunday Law.” The spiritually dead have come alive. The spiritually blind are seeing. The spiritually lame are leaping up from the ground, and many are waking up from a stupor. Personally, I want to do something for Christ, who died in our place. I want the joy of seeing people turning to Jesus for help and salvation. I plan to get many “National Sunday Law” books to give to others. By God’s grace, I’m going to get them into the people’s hands! Sincerely, Everton Guthrie

Dear Pastor Marcussen,

I’ve read your book “National Sunday Law,” and all I can say is “All glory and praise to God for inspiring you with the Holy Spirit to reveal His truths to all the nations of our planet. I was so shocked when I realized that Satan had kept my eyes closed all these years. My heart is crying to God to bless your work so that all the false teachings and idolatry in churches may be revealed, and Jesus can save them. Your brother in Christ, Hilton
