Dear SDA friends around the world,

The Bible verse says, “And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away.” The flood took who away? The wicked.

The flood swept the wicked away in death and left God’s people alive in the ark. The Bible reveals that in our day it will be like it was in the days of Noah when the wicked, not the righteous, were taken away in death. Many poor preachers say that it is the righteous who will be taken away [raptured] and the ungodly who will be left. But the Bible shows clearly that it is the wicked who are the ones “taken away” in death. The rapture theory [it’s just a theory] is very dangerous because it leads to people thinking that if they willfully break God holy 10 commandment law now, they’ll have another chance to obey them [to not kill, steal, break God’s Sabbath, etc.] after the rapture. Woe be unto the preachers who give the people this papal “indulgence” - which they purchased with the blood of the people from Mother Rome!

Faith: If the poor souls on the Titanic, and in Noah’s day, and in our day, could all look at each other and look at their preachers, what would happen then?

Pastor Jan: Are you ready? Here we go - fast as they could.

Little Eva Hart was born in 1905. She was an innocent little girl of seven when she and her dear mother were saved from the sinking Titanic in 1912. She gave her personal testimony in 1990 when she was 85. Now, in 2025, she would be 120 years old. I pray that we will see and talk with her in the paradise of God. "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment: So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation." Heb. 9:27,28.

Eva: "So we rowed away from the ship as fast as we could because the suction is absolutely enormous. We rowed away, and I didn't close my eyes at all - - I saw that ship sink. And I saw that ship break in half. For so many years, people have argued with me about that. But now at last it has been proved beyond doubt that she did break in half. The back part of that ship stood up in the water for quite a long time. It seemed a long time to me.

"There are still questions about whether the ship that was so close to us was the Californian or not. I saw that ship. It wasn't just lights on the horizon. You could see - - it was a ship. And I saw our rockets being fired - which that ship must have seen. They didn't think it was a portent of danger, but I would have thought that in the middle of the Atlantic, in the middle of the night, that rockets must mean trouble.

Pastor Jan: I learned that when the ship struck the iceberg, the people were having a big party. The crew didn't even bring the red emergency rockets because the ship cannot sink. They shot off the party rockets which were white. So the men on the Californian knew that the Titanic is having a party and everything's alright.

Crew Member: "And the band played on. Wallace Hartley assembled his men in the first class lounge, and struck up a song. As the ship slipped deeper and deeper into the water, the eight musicians moved out onto the boat deck, and played even louder in the starry night. People streamed out and onto the few remaining lifeboats, and with a rise of terror in emotions, Hartley and his men kept firmly to the song. Then, with just five minutes to go, Wallace Hartley tapped his violin, and they played, 'Nearer My God to Thee.'"

Eva: "There's no question that they played 'Nearer My God to Thee.' The Americans said that they just played ragtime, but it wasn't. It wasn't. It was the same 'Nearer My God to Thee' that they played in church some months later. When they played that song in church, I was so frightened that I ran out.

And here's little Eva Hart. She's only 7. She loves her Mama and her Daddy. In this letter, you're going to learn what happened to her.

With only about an hour left, crew members - like this one on the left - decide who lives, and who dies.

Finally the lifeboats are gone! The wives and lovers are floating away. There they go! The men are standing around in absolute silence. Some are leaning against the railings of the deck. Others are slowly pacing up and down. What does death feel like? What does ice water feel like? What does breathing water feel like? They'll know in about 45 minutes. Good bye my love. Good bye world! Bye bye!

In some cases the wives are torn from their husbands and pushed into the boats. But many times they were allowed to remain on the Titanic.

As the boats went down, the ropes creaked as they slipped through the pulleys and went down the 90 feet which separated them from the water. The men rowing anticipated that the suction from such an enormous vessel would be unusually dangerous. So they rowed away as

Some in the lifeboats. Some in the water. In ice water you have only about a minute or two to live. It was reported that before he went under, one pastor was pleading with people to give their lives to Jesus. Then he was gone. "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them. And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man." Rev. 14:13,14.

"I remember being absolutely petrified on the dark night on the sinking ship with people screaming. There wasn't any panic until the lifeboats left, and then there was panic galore. We were down in the ocean. We could hear them running about on the decks, and screaming. You can imagine that people came up from their cabins and went onto the deck - finding no lifeboats - and tearing around to the other side! That's when the panic was there!

"There wasn't any panic at the time I got in the lifeboat because there weren't many people up there. But when they found that there were no boats - there was panic - we could hear it! Definitely!

"But the most dreadful sound of all was the sound of

The poor souls on the Titanic don't need to worry about their makeup anymore. The sea will give their faces the final touch. It looks like the lady on the bottom is the happiest because her makeup is more exquisite than all the rest. The poor souls flounder down in the sea, filling their lungs with ice water until the next thing they see is the lovely Jesus.

Concerning the latest fashions, the prophet said, "Our bodies are not our own... Our bodies belong to him who made them, and we are in duty bound to become intelligent in regard to the best means of preserving the habitation he has given us... If we enfeeble the body by self-gratification, by indulging the appetite, and by dressing in accordance with health-destroying fashions, in order to be in harmony with the world, we become enemies of God." PH159.

the next day, these poor women roamed about the ship looking to see if they could see the husband they left behind. But not one of them found anybody.

"The Carpathia with its tragic cargo steamed to New York, and the legend of the Titanic became public property.

"My mother's first words were, 'How soon can I go home?' We came right back to England. I entirely agree with Dr. Ballard. He said the whole thing was a tribute to man's arrogance. That man can be so arrogant as to build something and then claim that it is undestroyable, it's the most arrogant thing. No one should have died. One life is worth more than the whole ship, surely. That is what I saw. That is what I remember.

"There are hardly any of us left now to share this memory. I'm the only living survivor now who can remember it. I don't think there's anyone besides me who can really tell the story of it now.

"My father's sister met us, and we were whisked straight off to her home. And I was ill. When they threw me from one boat into the other, they bruised me very badly. I had bouts of sickness, and they took me straight away into a hospital to have a look at me. And so I didn't see really much of the furor. And we came back home to England quite quickly.

"Now coming home, my mother went to bed every night and slept. I was the one who was a terror coming home on the big ship. I wouldn't come out of the cabin. She allured me up onto the deck one day. That was about all.

"I met the Captain of the Titanic three or four times. I do remember that my father spoke to him several times and a couple of those times I was with my father when he spoke to him. The Captain took us to some room in the ship where passengers don't normally go. And I of course wasn't a bit interested at seven years of age. But he was very nice, I remember that. And he greatly admired a doll I had. He was very nice to me.

people drowning. The screams! My mother couldn't get me to talk about it for years. Someone said, 'Do you remember the silence that followed it?' That's quite right. The whole world stood still that night. Once the lights had gone, and the ship had gone, and the sound had gone - oh it was dreadful! Dreadful!

"I can only tell you that I'm a terrible coward. I never look at pictures of it going down. Ever! When I get various books and things, I turn that page over very quickly. I can't bear to look at it.

"I suppose it was a microcosm. Looking at it from way down on the sea, it was dreadful. I don't like looking at pictures of ships at all. I don't like pictures of the Titanic in particular because I can see it happening.

"And, we were picked up as you know by a sister ship Carpathia. The rescue of people in lifeboats in mid-ocean is quite a terrifying thing. These little boats draw up alongside of what looks like an enormous vessel. And then how do you get on board? And so they opened the hatch in the side of the ship. They threw down rope ladders for people like my mother. And they had to climb up in mid ocean - on the swaying rope ladder - which she said was the most terrifying thing. And what could we children do? We couldn't climb up a rope ladder. So they got these big luggage nets. The mesh is very wide apart. Small children could have slipped through it. So each child was put into a sack. I remember being petrified when I was put in that sack - then the sack full of these children were put into these huge nets and hauled on board. But that really was quite terrifying.

"Having gotten on board I couldn't find my mother. And I didn't find her for hours. One of the most pathetic things was that all the next day, these poor women roamed about the ship looking to see if they could see the husband they left behind. But not one of them found anybody.

Here's Jesuit "Father" Francis Browne. The exJesuit priest, Alberto Rivera, revealed that the Jesuits were trying to get a Central Bank established in the U.S. so that agents of Rome could get control of the nation through it. But there were three of the richest men in the nation who were preventing it from happening. And those three men were on the Titanic! They were John Jacob Astor, Benjamin Guggenheim, and Isidore Straus. And Captain Smith was a faithful Catholic. And the Titanic was going full speed ahead through an ice field after Captain Smith had been warned and a nearby ship had totally stopped. If Rome could get rid of those three men, President Woodrow Wilson could get the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 passed. And the sinking Titanic did get rid of those men. And the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 was passed. And we did get a Central Bank.

So "Father" Francis Browne verified that all three of them were on board. He took pictures of them. Then he got off the ship at its last stop before heading out across the ocean.

This is all in harmony with the statement of God's prophet who said that one of Rome's great goals is to "regain control of the world." GC 565,566.

They were building a monster. Three thousand men would labor in the shipyard for more than two years. Each of her 3 colossal engines was the size of a three story house. It was the largest moving object ever made by man.

Dear A. Jan Marcussen,

I am very grateful to get your book "National Sunday Law." I've grown up in the Presbyterian church for 36 years without comprehending the prophecies explained in your book. What makes me the most surprised is to learn about God's holy Sabbath day being on Saturday, the seventh-day of the week. I have never been taught this, though I was born in the church. May the good Lord forgive me for being prejudiced against God's Sabbath-keepers in the past. Now that I know the truth, I have become a Seventh-day Adventist! [Praise God!] Now my desire is to share this truth and the soon coming of Jesus with everyone I can! I plan to get more "National Sunday Law" books to give to many others. Yours in the service of the Lord, D.K.

May 31, 1911, all 66,000 tons of the royal ship Titanic slipped gracefully into Belfast harbor. The Titanic was designed for the rich passenger trade on the North Atlantic. It was not only the biggest ocean-liner, it was by far the most luxurious. It was four city blocks long. Aboard Titanic it was hard to remember that this was indeed a ship. The White Star Line called the "unsinkable" Titanic a "floating palace."

On April 10, 1912, Titanic's maiden voyage began. In an age that worshiped wealth, the 325 first class passengers were an awesome assembly. [The wealth of the three men mentioned above was about 15 billion dollars by today's standard.} Titanic was like a time capsule, laden with the spenders of the "gilded age." She sailed from South Hampton at noon and was expected to reach New York in just seven days with 2,228 people aboard.

Here on the bottom of the sea the photograph shows the front of the great Titanic after she broke into two pieces.

"The next day, Titanic made her last stop, pausing two miles off the coast of Ireland. Here, boats brought out the last passengers, and here the lucky "Father" Browne disembarked - taking pictures of the Titanic on his way. Someone offered to pay "Father" Browne's way to New York on the Titanic. When he asked for permission from his Jesuit superior, the urgent message came back - "Get off that ship!"

Then, the mighty Titanic sailed into the twilight zone of legend. She would not be photographed again for 73 years.

Dear Pastor Jan,

I was born to a family with two parents who were both preachers. That only translates into double trouble. I determined that if I was going to hell, then I was going to deserve it. I remember receiving the book, "National Sunday Law" for the first time. I am reading it again now. I can "see" this time around, especially after reading your newsletters which have gotten my head out of the sand. Praise God! Sunday churches never gave me "down to earth" Bible messages to wake us up and give us real spiritual meat and truth. Thank you for staying true to the Lord. It means everything to be fed with the pure word of God! In Christ's service. Carole N.

“Professed followers of Christ are today eating and drinking with the drunken, while their names stand in honored church records. Intemperance benumbs the moral and spiritual powers and prepares the way for indulgence of the lower passions. Multitudes feel under no moral obligation to curb their sensual desires, and they become the slaves of lust. Men are living for the pleasures of sense; for this world and this life alone. Extravagance pervades all circles of society. Integrity is sacrificed for luxury and display. They that make haste to be rich pervert justice and oppress the poor, and ‘slaves and souls of men’ are still bought and sold... The issues of the press teem with records of murder - crimes so cold-blooded that it seems as though every instinct of humanity were blotted out... The spirit of anarchy is permeating all nations, and the outbreaks that from time to time excite the horror of the world are but indications of the pent-up fires of passion and lawlessness that, having once escaped control, will fill the earth with woe and desolation. “Before the Flood God sent Noah to warn the world, that the people might be led to repentance, and thus escape the threatened destruction. As the time of Christ’s second appearing draws near, the Lord sends His servants with a warning to the world to prepare for that great event. Multitudes have been living in transgression of God’s law, and now He in mercy calls them to obey its sacred precepts. There is a constant round of excitement that causes indifference to God and prevents the people from being impressed by the truths which alone can save them from the coming destruction...

“When great and wise men had proved to their satisfaction that it was impossible for the world to be destroyed by water, when the fears of the people were quieted, when all regarded Noah’s prophecy as a delusion, and looked upon him as a fanatic—then it was that God’s time had come. ‘The fountains of the great deep’ were ‘broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened,’ and the scoffers were overwhelmed in the waters of the Flood. Dear A. Jan Marcussen,
I am 14 years old. My brother gave me your book “National Sunday Law.” I could not stop reading it! The facts you gave really opened my eyes to the truth. I was really shocked to learn that Rome was inspired by Satan to change God’s Sabbath. I asked my family members what they thought about it. One of them accepted God’s Sabbath. I’ve made my choice to be on the Lord’s side and keep His Bible Sabbath no matter what my family does. I’m not afraid to die for the Lord. I want to commend you on your book. Though I’m only 14 years old, you helped me to understand the book of Revelation. You really changed my way of seeing things! I’m sure that God will bless you! The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.” Erika

Dear Pastor Marcussen,
When I came home from my job in New York one day, there was this book “National Sunday Law” at my door step. I began reading it and my eyes were opened about the soon-coming Sunday law, and about God’s law and His true Sabbath. Now I have accepted His holy Sabbath. I began to preach about Bible prophecy as is in your book in a Sunday church. I’m not trained as a preacher, but God gave my words power. Later, many people began to call on me to preach the same things in their churches! Now I can’t stop preaching this truth, no matter what happens. God bless you. Robes Pierce

“A great portion of the wicked were greatly enraged, as they suffered the effects of the plagues. It was a scene of fearful agony... The people turned upon the ministers with bitter hate, and reproached them, telling them, ‘You have not warned us. You told us all the world was to be converted, and cried, Peace, peace, to quiet every fear that was aroused. You have not told us of this hour, and those who warned us of it you said were fanatics, and evil men, who would ruin us.’ But the ministers, I saw, did not escape the wrath of God. Their sufferings were ten fold greater than that of their people.” 1SG 201.

God’s work will be finished sooner than people think. Angels will be all over the earth in human form! {That’s in 4BC 1142}. They, with God’s faithful people will quickly finish God’s work. And you and I can be part of it. “Angels will do a work which men might have” done, and we will go door as well as giant angels! Look at this -

“When divine power is combined with human effort, the work will spread like fire in the stubble. [Praise God!] God will employ agencies whose origin man will be unable to discern; angels will do a work which men might have had the blessing of accomplishing, had they not neglected to answer the claims of God.” RH 12/15/85.

Dear Pastor Marcussen,
It was such a blessing to have read your book “National Sunday Law” concerning future events that are about to take place. I am convinced that you have interpreted Bible prophecy correctly! As I read your book, my spirit cried out “Truth, Truth, Truth!!!” Thank you for your book and the clear teachings that you present in it! God bless and keep you. Your humble brother always,
