Dear SDA friends around the world,
 Read all the boxes in this letter, then come back here and we'll talk about what's happening.

Faith: In this Bible quote we see that princes and judges rule by the power of King Jesus.

On the men's shirts is the word, "Gonzaga."
 Gonzaga University is a Jesuit University in Washington. The Gonzaga Law Review is a prestigious law review that has been studied by law students and attorneys all over the country for many years. It has shaped the thinking of lawyers and judges throughout the land to the pleasing of the Jesuits. Does Rome still plan to take over America as we've seen in the book, Making America Catholic? How would they do it? Would they do it as Protestants? Why would God allow it? And how will it affect us?

Charles Chiniquy was a Roman Catholic priest from Quebec who brought many Catholics to Illinois in the attempt to spread Catholicism in the U.S.

But he taught the Bible, and rebuked the corrupt Bishop of Chicago, Bishop Anthony O'Regan for his evil deeds. So the Bishop united with a poor debauched soul by the name of Peter Spink - to sue priest Chiniquy and take him to court on an evil charge of sexual perversion with Spink's own sister, whose name was Madame Bossey. False witnesses told lies about Charles Chiniquy, so he hired a lawyer to save him. The lawyer's name was Abraham Lincoln.

Priest Chiniquy said, "Though every word of that story was a perjury, there was such a color of truth and sincerity in my accuser, that his testimony fell upon me and my lawyers as a thunderbolt. My God only knows the weight of the waves of desolation which then passed over my soul.

I received an email - adventmessengers@gmail.com - containing an article revealing that in Australia, law enforcement has permission to carefully rip your underpants off of you so they can give you a shot to help you fight the virus. witness; it is by another direct testimony against what he has said, or by showing from his very lips that he has perjured himself. I have never seen two such skillful rogues as those two priests. There is really a diabolical skill in the plan they have concocted for your destruction. [We learned from the book, Making America Catholic, that now Rome's "diabolical skill" is aimed at destroying the United States, so that they can raise it from the ashes as a Catholic controlled nation.] It is evident that the bishop is at the bottom of the plot. I do not like to conceal from you that I have several reasons to fear that you will be declared guilty, and condemned to a heavy penalty, or to the penitentiary. It is very probable that we will have to confront that sister of Lebel tomorrow. Her sickness is probably a feint, in order not to appear here. If she does not come, they will send some justice of the peace to get her sworn testimony, which will be more difficult to rebut than her own verbal declarations. That woman is evidently in the hands of the bishop. I know nothing so difficult as to refute such female testimonies, particularly when they are absent from the court. The only way to be sure of a favourable verdict tomorrow is, that God

What strange things will we see in the end of the world?

"After that lying testimony was given, there was a lull, and a most profound silence in the courtroom. All eyes were turned upon me, and I heard many voices speaking of me, whispering, 'The villain!'

"Those voices passed through my soul as poisoned arrows. Though innocent, I wished that the ground would open under my feet and bring me down to the darkest abyss to conceal me from the eyes of my friends and the whole world.

"However, Abraham Lincoln soon interrupted the silence by addressing to Lebel such cross-questions that his testimony, in the minds of many, soon lost much of its power.

"At ten p.m. the court was adjourned, to meet again the next morning, and I went to the room of Mr. Lincoln with my two other lawyers, to confer about the morning's work. My mind was unspeakably sad.

"My dear Mr. Chiniquy," said Mr. Lincoln, "though I hope, tomorrow, to destroy the testimony of Mr. Lebel against you, I must concede that I see great dangers ahead. There is not the least doubt in my mind that every word he has said is a sworn lie; but my fear is that the jury thinks differently. I am a pretty good judge in these matters. I feel that our jurymen think that you are guilty. There is only one way to perfectly destroy the power of a false Almighty would take our part and show your innocence! Go to Him and pray, for He alone can save you. Mr. Lincoln was exceedingly solemn when he addressed those words to me, and they went very deep into my soul.

"Burning tears were rolling on my cheeks when he was speaking, and there was on his face the expression of friendly sympathy which I shall never forget. Without being able to say a word, I left him to go to my little room. It was nearly eleven o'clock. I locked the door and fell on my knees to pray, but I was unable to say a single word.

“At last the fountains of tears were opened, and it relieved me to weep; I could then cry: ‘Oh, my God! have mercy upon me! Thou knowest my innocence! hast Thou not promised that those who trust in Thee cannot perish! Oh! do not let me perish, when Thou art the only One in whom I trust! Save me!’

“At three a.m. I heard three knocks at my door, and I quickly went to open it. Who was there? Abraham Lincoln, with a face beaming with joy! I could hardly believe my eyes. It was my noble-hearted friend, one of the noblest men Heaven had ever given to earth! On seeing me bathed in tears, he exclaimed, ‘Cheer up, Mr. Chiniquy, I have the perjured priests in my hands. Their diabolical plot is all known, [Will Rome’s plots become known in our day? 2 Thess. 2:3.] and if they do not fly away before dawn, they will surely be lynched. Bless the Lord, you are saved!’

“The sudden passage of extreme desolation to an extreme joy came near killing me. I felt as if suffocated, and unable to utter a single word. I took his hand, pressed it to my lips, and bathed it with tears of joy. I said: ‘May God forever bless you, dear Mr. Lincoln. But please tell me how you can bring me such glorious news!’

Please allow me to say that your book “National Sunday Law” is dynamite! It was very well written and it held my full attention to the very end. Not only did I read the book but I also did an in depth study of each of the Bible verses given. I enjoyed “National Sunday Law” so much! Harvey S.

advised her not to show herself before the Court is opened. I will, then, send for her, and when she will have given, under oath, the details she has just given me, I pity Spink with his perjured priests. As I told you, I would not be surprised if they were lynched: for there is a terrible excitement in town among many people, who from the beginning suspect that the priests have perjured themselves to destroy you. Now your suit is gained, and, tomorrow, you will have the greatest triumph a man ever got over his confounded foes. But you are in need of rest as well as myself. Good bye.”

“Not long after the arrival of the trains from Chicago, Lebel came down from his room to see in the book where travelers register their names, if there were any new comers from Chicago... What was his dismay when he saw the first name entered was Philomene Moffat! A deadly presentiment chilled the blood in his veins! He immediately sent for her.

“‘Miss Philomene Moffat here!’ he exclaimed, when he saw her. ‘What are you coming here for this night?’ he said.
“‘You will know it, sir, tomorrow morning,’ she answered.

“‘Ah! wretched girl! you come to destroy me’ he exclaimed. She replied: ‘I do not come to destroy you. You are already destroyed. Mr. Lincoln knows all.’

“‘Oh! [REDACTED] he exclaimed, striking his forehead with his hands. Then taking a big bundle of banknotes from his pocketbook, he said: ‘Here are one hundred dollars for you if you take the morning train and go to Chicago.’

“She replied, ‘If you would offer me as much gold as this house could contain, I would not go.’ He then ran to the sleeping-room of Spink, and told him: ‘Get up! Withdraw your suit against Chiniquy; we are lost! Let us take the train! Chiniquy knows all our secrets!’

“When the hour of opening the court came, there was an immense crowd, not only inside, but outside its walls. Mr. Spink, pale as a “Mr. Lincoln said, ‘As soon as Lebel had given his perjured testimony against you yesterday, one of the agents of the Chicago press telegraphed to some of the principal papers of Chicago saying: ‘It is probable that Mr. Chiniquy will be condemned.’ And the little Irish boys began to sell their papers, filling the streets with cries: ‘Chiniquy will be hung! Chiniquy will be hung!’ The Roman Catholics were so glad to hear that, that ten thousand extra copies have been sold. Among those who bought those papers was a friend of yours by the name of Terrien. He went to his wife and told her that you were to be condemned. When the woman heard that, she said, ‘It is too bad, for I know Mr. Chiniquy is not guilty.’

“‘How do you know that?’ said the husband. She answered: ‘I was there when the priest Lebel made the plot, and promised to give his sister two eighties of good land if she would swear a false oath and accuse him of a crime which he had not even thought of.’

“‘If it be so,’ said Terrien, ‘we cannot allow Mr. Chiniquy to be condemned. Come with me to Urbana.’

“But that woman being quite unwell, said to her husband, ‘You know well I cannot go; but Miss Philomene Moffat was with me then. She knows every particular of that wicked plot as well as I do. She is well; go and take her to Urbana. There is no doubt that her testimony will prevent the condemnation of Mr. Chiniquy.’ Terrien started immediately: and when you were praying God to come to your help, He was sending your deliverer at the full speed of the railroad cars.

Miss Moffat has just given me the details of that diabolical plot. I have

Dear Pastor Jan,

My Sunday Church had taught me that we can celebrate the Sabbath any day of the week. Then my friend gave me your book “National Sunday Law.” I took it home with me and couldn’t put it down! I was engrossed by all of its contents. It changed my life! Having been raised a Roman Catholic by my mom, and only attending church as a kid on holidays, I was captivated by the historical truth it presented about the Whore of Babylon. I was quite sick the day I finished the last chapter of your book. I pulled myself out of bed with the little strength I had left and drove over to a minister friend’s house to share the truth of your book. A few days later I was feeling better and I drove over to Frank and Julie’s house to tell them. If the Ten Commandments are important enough to be in the Ark of the Covenant in Heaven, they are important enough to be kept down here on Earth, ALL TEN OF THEM! Frank and Julie were overjoyed at the news. I was so happy that I told everyone I knew in my Sunday Church. It all started with “National Sunday Law!” Now I encourage everyone to order them by the case to give to everyone! You plant the seed and God brings the harvest - - so plant big!!! man condemned to death, rose before the Judge and said: 'Please the court, allow me to withdraw my prosecution against Mr. Chiniquy. I am now persuaded that he is not guilty of the faults brought against him before this tribunal.'

"Abraham Lincoln, having accepted that reparation in my name, made one of the most admirable speeches I have ever heard on the cruel injustices I had suffered from my merciless persecutors. It had been very wise on their part to fly away and disappear before the opening of the court, for the whole city was ransacked for them by the hundreds.

"Abraham Lincoln had not only defended me with the zeal and talent of the ablest lawyer I have ever known, but as the most devoted and noblest friend I ever had. After thanking him for the services he had rendered me, I requested him to show me his bill, assuring him that I would pay him to the last cent.

Dear Sir,

I have just finished reading "National Sunday Law" for the second time. The first time I read it, I was in total shock. We have been deceived all our lives! Now I feel truly blessed! My children and I were raised as Roman Catholics, and I am embarrassed to say that now. How could I have been so wrong? At times when reading your book, I break down and cry - thinking of all the people that have been betrayed by Rome over the years. I get very angry at the papal leaders - but I'm getting over these feelings now, and I'm thankful to God that your book has come into our lives. That's all that matters.

I have thrown out all of our rosaries, prayer books, holy cards, and anything relating to the Catholic Church. My daughter and I now keep God's Sabbath on Saturday, the 7th day, and follow God's health principles in the Bible which keep us from disease and premature death. Thank you! Sincerely, Bonny B.

Jesus's Corner: "We are to be guided by true theology and common sense." IMCP 148

"He answered me with a smile and an air of kindness, 'My dear Mr. Chiniquy, I feel proud and honored to have been called to defend you. But I have done it less as a lawyer than as a friend. The money I should receive from you would take away the pleasure I feel at having fought your battle. Your case is unique in my whole practice. I have never met a man so cruelly persecuted as you have been, and who deserves it so little. Your enemies are devils incarnate. The plot they had concocted against you is the most hellish one I ever knew. But the way you have been saved from their hands, the appearance of that young and intelligent Miss Moffat, who was really sent by God in the very hour of need, is one of the most extraordinary occurrences I ever saw. It makes me remember what I have too often forgotten, and what my mother often told me when young that our God is a prayer-hearing God. This good thought, sown into my young heart by that dear mother's hand, was just in my mind when I told you, 'Go and pray, God alone can save you.' But I confess to you that I had not faith enough to believe that your prayer would be so quickly and so marvelously answered. Now let us speak of what you owe me. Well! Well! how much do you owe me? You owe me nothing! for I suppose you are quite ruined. The expenses of such a suit, I know, must be enormous. Your enemies want to ruin you. Will I help to finish your ruin?'

"'You are right,' I answered him; I am nearly ruined by my enemies. But you must support your family.'

"'Well! well!' he answered, 'I will give you a promissory note which you will sign.' Taking a small piece of paper, he wrote: 'Urbana, May 23, 1853, Due A. Lincoln fifty dollars, for value received. Signed, C. Chiniquy.' He handed me the note, saying, 'Can you sign that?' After reading it, I said, 'Dear Mr. Lincoln, this is a joke.'

"When Mr. Lincoln was writing the due-bill, the terrible presentiment that he would pay with his life, caused me to break into sobs and tears. Mr.

Lincoln said, 'Father Chiniquy, what are you crying for? Ought you not to be the most happy man alive?'

"'Dear Mr. Lincoln,' I answered, 'allow me to tell you that the joy I should naturally feel for such a victory is destroyed in my mind by the fear of what it may cost you. There were then in the crowd not less than ten or twelve Jesuits from Chicago and St. Louis, who came to hear my sentence of condemnation to the penitentiary. But it was on their heads that you have brought the thunders of heaven and earth! Nothing can be compared to the expression of their rage against you, when you not only wrenched me from their cruel hands, but you were making the walls of the court-house tremble under the awful and superhumanly eloquent denunciation of their diabolical malice, and total want of Christian principle... What troubles my soul just now and draws my tears, is that it seems to me that I have read your sentence of death in their fiendish eyes.'

"He tried to divert my mind, at first, with a joke. 'Sign this,' said he, 'it will be my warrant of death.' But after I had signed, he became more solemn, and said, 'I know that Jesuits never forget nor forsake. But man must not care how and where he dies, provided he dies at the post of honour and duty,' and he left me." 50 Years in the Church of Rome, Chapter 58. Praise God!

Greetings in the Lord,

I was stopped by a policeman and told that I had run through a red light. After being questioned, I was taken to jail. When I arrived, I was asked to submit a urine sample. I agreed to this and I remained in jail for fifty five days. It took them 48 days to get the report back to the court. The urine sample was negative, and the charges were dismissed by the court. So I went home. During the 55 days, I lost my job and everything that I had worked for, but I want you to know that God had His hand in this! How? Because one of the men in jail came into possession of a book which he gave to me. After reading it, I knew why the Lord had brought me into this place for 55 days! I read the book 3 times and looked up the scriptures quoted in it. The book changed the lives of my entire family! The book is "National Sunday Law." The book revealed Jesus to me! It also revealed the fact that everyone is going to have to make a decision as to whether or not to receive the seal of God {God's true Sabbath} or the Mark of the Beast - and die in the lake of fire with the wicked. The young man who found the book went to trial a second time, and was found not guilty. So we are both out of there. But God had us there to find that book, and receive the truth of God, and the salvation of our Lord Jesus Christ! Praise God! R.E.

Priest Chiniquy now gives quotes from the big Catholic meeting he attended in Buffalo, N.Y.

The papal leader said -

"We are determined to take possession of the United States and rule them; but we cannot do that without acting secretly and with the utmost wisdom... Silently and patiently, we must mass our Roman Catholics in the great cities of the United States, remembering that the vote of a poor journeyman, though he be covered with rags, has as much weight in the scale of power as the millionaire Astor, and that if we have two votes against his one, he will become as powerless as an oyster. Let us then multiply our votes."
